E Pluribus Unum

From Many . . . One

We, the students of Thomas S. Wootton High School, have come together from many different backgrounds, lands, neighborhoods, traditions, experiences and walks of life to gain an education. All of us are seeking similar personal goals — self-understanding . . . knowledge . . . achievement . . . love . . . happiness. And all of us, in achieving these goals, are striving to make our school a strong and united one, where we can study together, work, experiment, learn, express our personalities freely, make mistakes, laugh, have fun and enjoy ourselves . . . where we can form lasting friendships.

Yet, even as we strive to unify Wootton, we try to remain individuals both in ourselves and in our school. Just as anyone wishes to stand out as his own self, we strive to have Wootton

Stand out as a school . . . our school . . . one which we can be proud of.

We are "colonists," in a sense, forming a united school in the same fashion that our namesake, the Honorable Thomas Sprigg Wootton, helped the Patriots during the American Revolutionary times to form a united country. The spirit with which we're accepting the challenge is symbolized by the fife and drum, which rallied the Patriots onto victory. Hopefully, this same spirit will rally us together as a school and help us to achieve our goals. This challenge is our theme: E Pluribus Unum—from many into one.

September 1st . . . School near completion . . . June 1st . . . School near depletion!

This Is The Dawning Of A New Adventure . . .

Construction crews toil, tile and tack to ready Wootton for opening day.

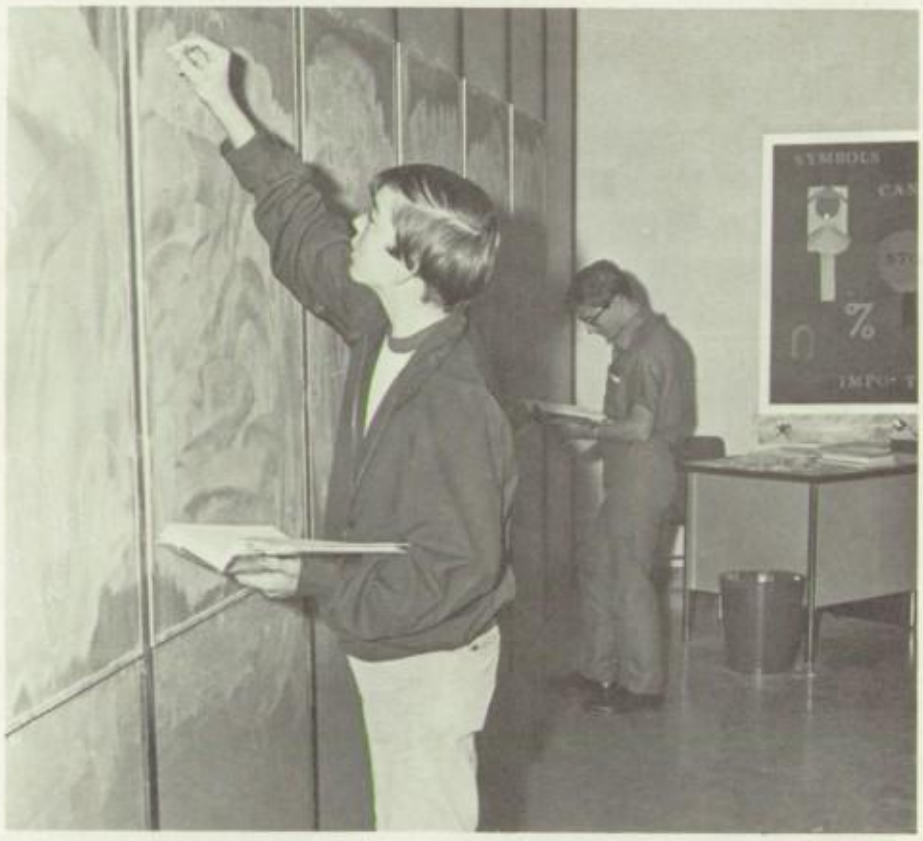
Construction continues during rush hour traffic.

Dr. Tom Warren, Wootton's commander-in-chief.

A heat wave strikes Wootton's opening days.

The IMC stocks its shelves with new equipment. Mrs. Beck, David Fike and Richard Rojas thread a film projector in Spanish class.

"That?...that's my seventh period class!?!?" crows Mrs. Raveson.



Stan Watkins computes a difficult Algebra problem, whether Willie has more stamps than Sam.

Laurie Gayle examines the contents of Wootton's newly opened cafeteria.

Mr. Van Winkle collapses on a nearby ladder wondering ?!%$ if the airconditioner will ever start pumping!

The Common Sense All-American Team.

A New School . . . A New You . . . New Friends . . . New Ideas . . . New Mistakes . . .

Danny Earman and Larry Daly present Coach Loudenberg a gift for his services to the football team.

"I could have done better on crutches," says Andy Johansen to Mark O'Donnell.

Fans join the football team for Saturday games.

Lyn Mandley leads the cheering Patriots.

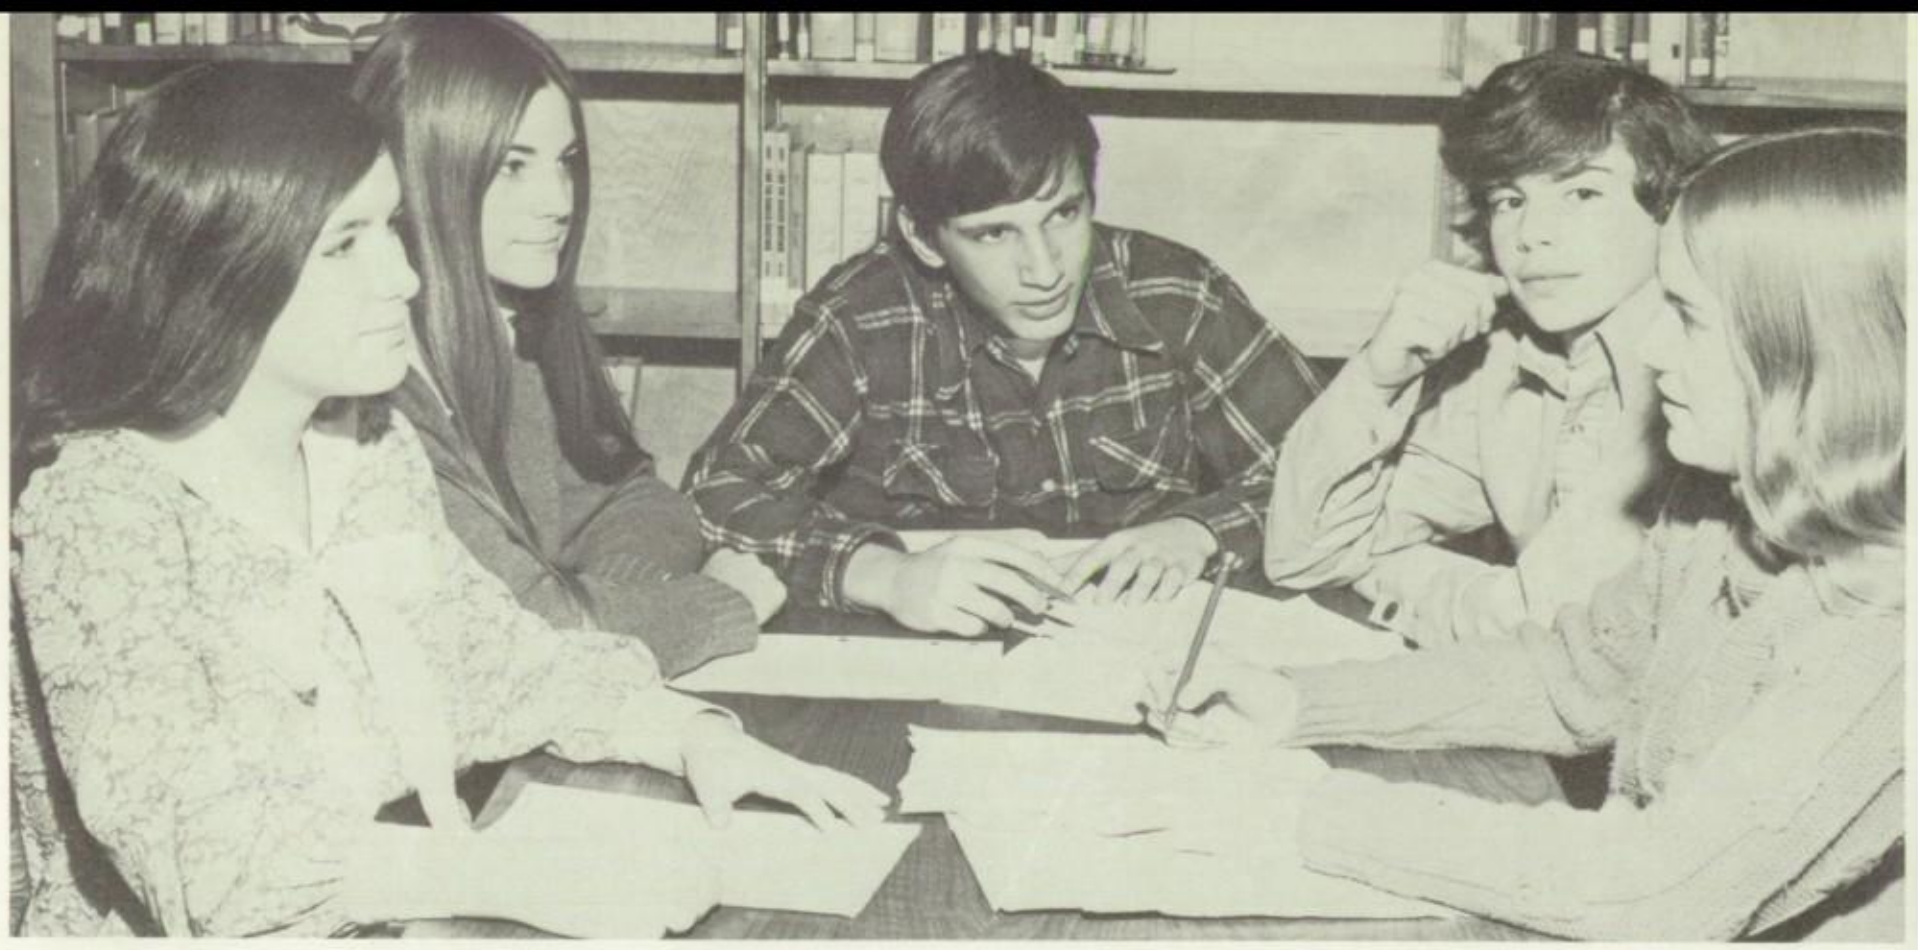
Coach Burchette introduces the basketball team at the pep rally.

Gene Neil goes up for tip off against Northwood.

Kathy Frederick shows you can laugh off a losing season.

Mr. Frey "with a little help from a friend" cheers Wootton on to victory.

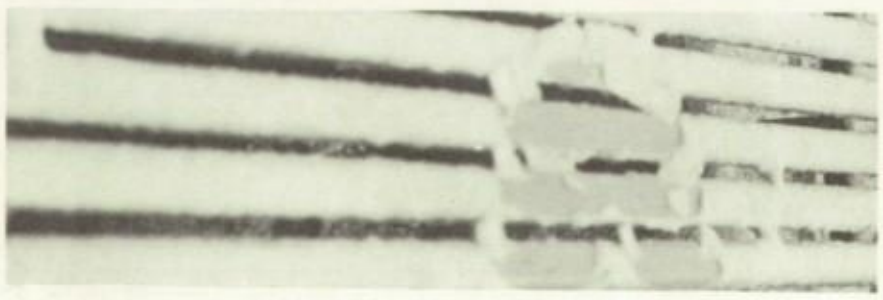
Jerry West, Lew Alcindor, Walt Frazier, Willis Reed ...



Tenth Grade Officers Anne Hairston, Cathy Schreyer, John Dugan, Larry Goldstein and April Davisson draw up their own Fourteen Point Plan.

French Club displays goods for Christmas bazaar.

"Hey, isn't that Clive Barnes I see in the audience?"



Someone's got a cold seat!?

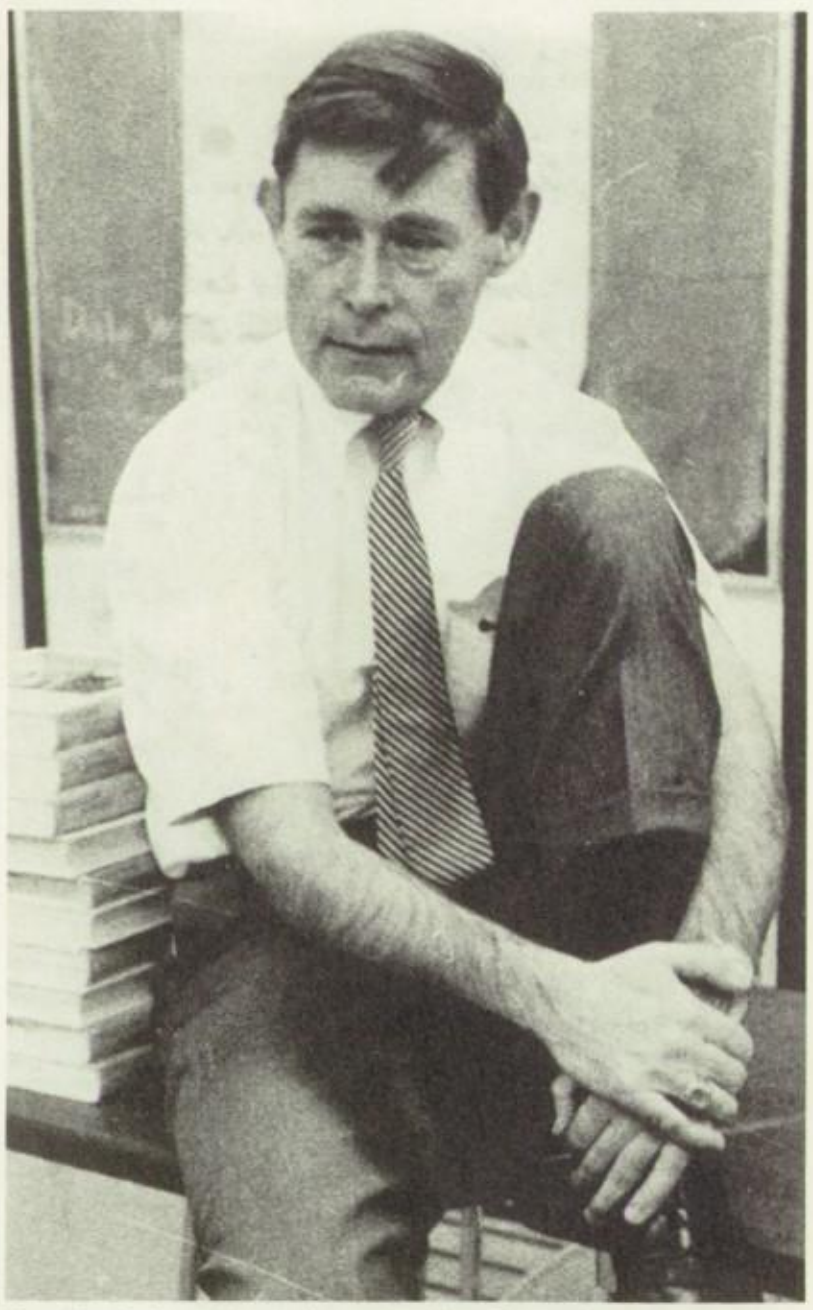
Fife and Drum Editor Cindy Thompson sends off page 100!

Spectators watch spellbound as Karen Thompson sheds her maxi skirt to matching sunsuit.

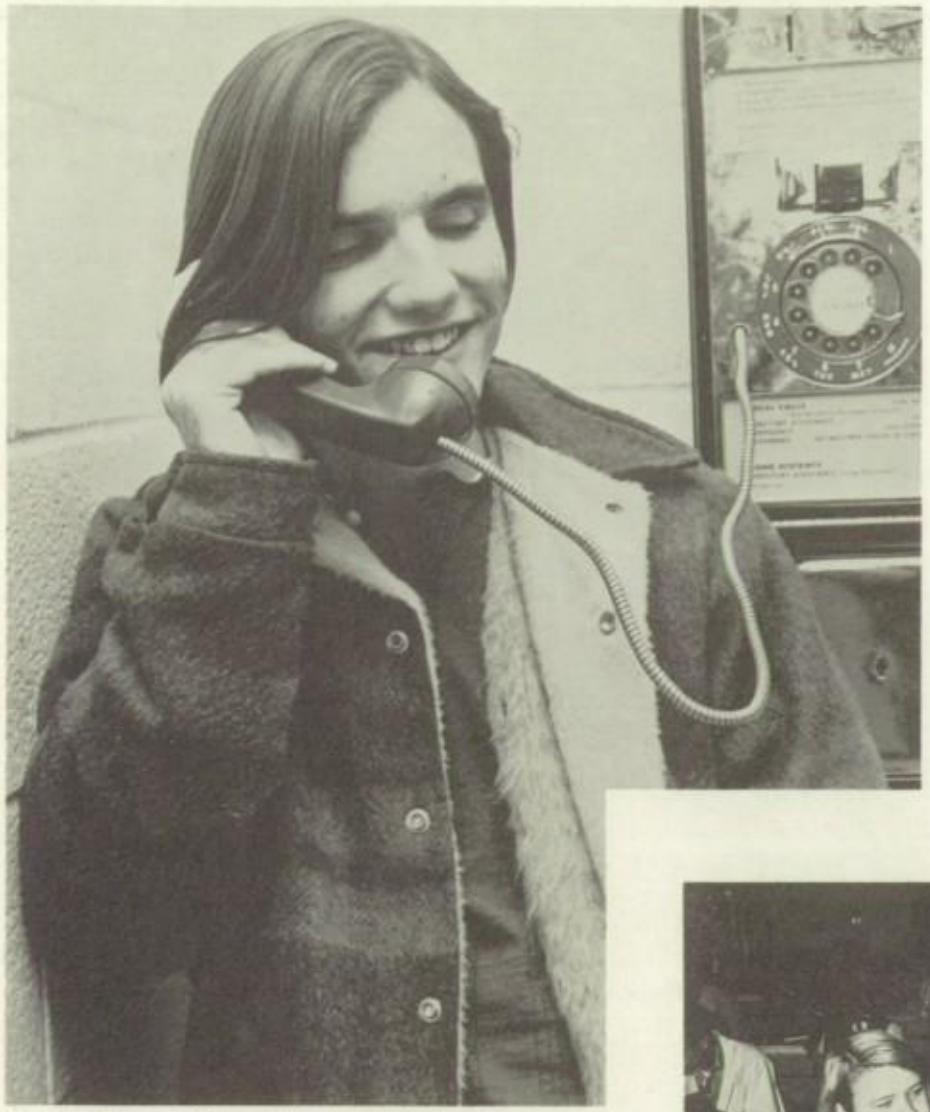
. . . New Endeavors . . . New Dreams . . . A Bold Beginning!

Wootton fights rubbish pollution as Marilyn Pearce, Paula Steiner, and Anne Hairston decorate trash cans in school colors.

Cheryl Costello gives it all she's got in practice for the Christmas choral production.

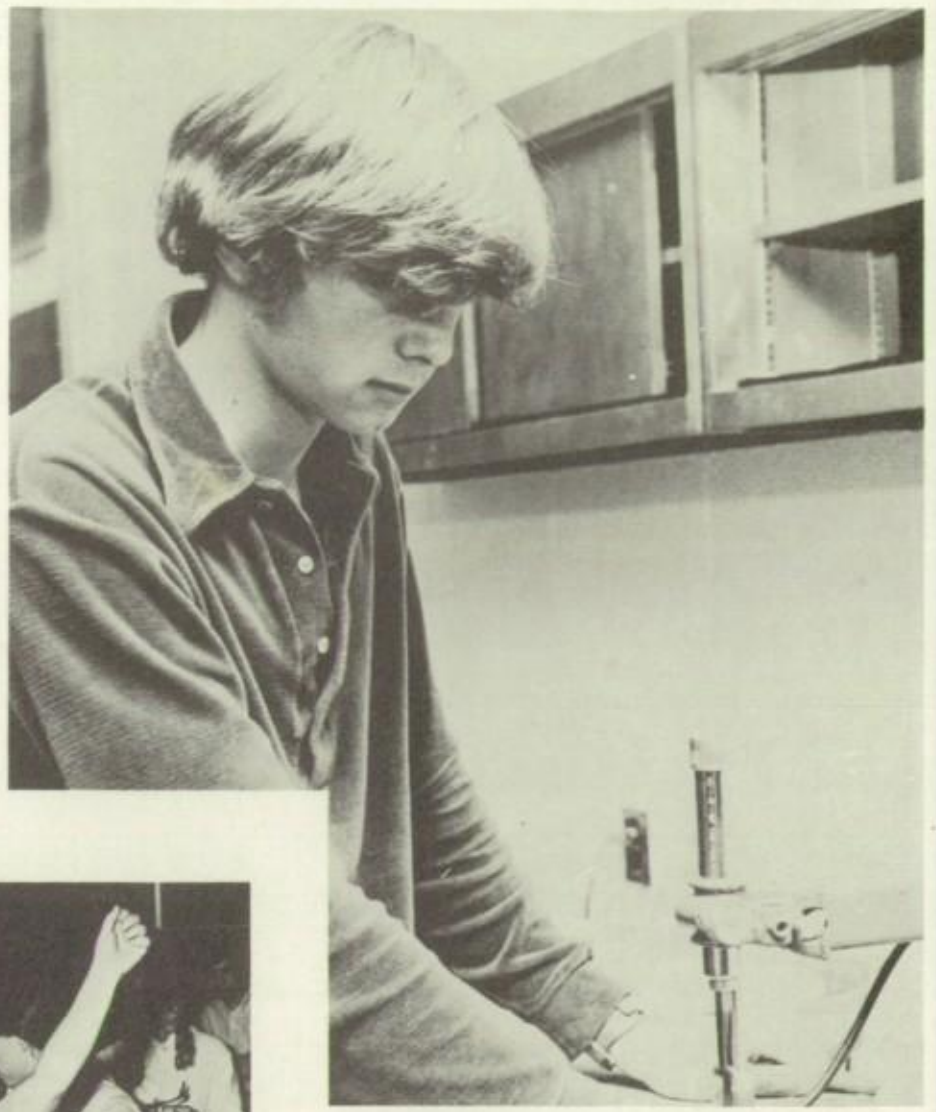


Centrifugal bumblepuppies seek Mr. Conway's advice on the title for the newspaper.



Mike Croker, "Hey, did you see the lemon meringue pie in Mr. Linkin's face?"

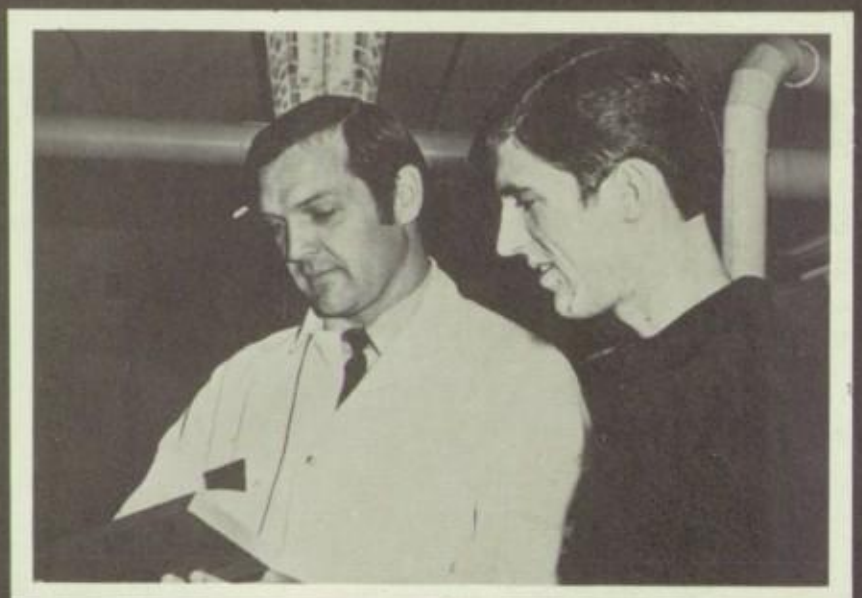
"Can I have some help?"



John Cassill, "Gee, I didn't know you can mak basketballs in shop!"

Tricia Tornillo cuddles her albino.

Laura Kohuth indulges in paint and meditation.



FACULTY

Dr. Warren Heads Another New School

The tremendous amount of work associated with opening a new school was dealt with admirably by Dr. Thomas Warren.

Plagued by threats of a delayed opening caused by construction difficulties, Dr. Warren has done a monumental amount of work to insure smooth operation of the school.

He is an administrator who believes in being with the students and not in being just a dictator that no one ever sees. He enjoys student functions, and his face is often seen in the stands at football and basketball games, at dances, concerts and in the halls at school.

Dr. Warren came from Cabin John Junior where he was the principal for a year and a half. He left Cabin John in the spring of 1970 to assume his new duties as Wootton's principal.

English Teachers Teach Everything

It has been said that every teacher teaches English and that English teachers teach everything. However, the primary goal of the English Department is to help students feel comfortable with all aspects of communication – reading, writing, speaking, listening and sensitivity awareness. Aside from teaching and reinforcing skills which will be necessary for success in many fields, English teachers hope that students will leave school with an appreciation of the language for its own sake. Drama, reading and discussion may fill many of the leisure hours that we all experience.

Math Department

The Math Department is goal-oriented! The teachers attempt to provide a desirable learning atmosphere in which to teach effectively that which challenges the students. They strive to provide their students with the necessary mathematical skills to develop inquiring minds. Students know they will use the math they learn in everyday life.

As Wootton continues its development into a full-fledged high school, the Math Department will continue to offer a large variety of courses to meet the needs and desires of the student body.

Science Department

The Science Department is working on various projects within the community to involve students directly in nature. They are developing a complete water shed study of Watts Branch Creek and are developing a pond on the school site to be used as a center for an outdoor laboratory. They hope to instill in students an awareness for their environment.

This year the Science Department has offered the basic science courses. When Wootton is a high school, more diverse and advanced courses will be offered, such as chemistry, physics and human ecology.

Social Studies Department

The Social Studies Department is involving students in the world around them through such courses as history, government, geography and psychology. Classroom discussions center around such varied topics as war, poverty, agriculture and dating and marriage, which are highlighted by many guest speakers and films. Field trips and outdoor projects were planned to directly involve students with unit material and to reinforce ideas stressed in the classroom. To enrich the courses, numerous paperback books are available for students to check out from the resource room.

Without The Physical There Is No Mental

Physical education is a basic and important part of everyone's life. As our society acquires more and more free time, it is important to instill in students knowledge and skills to help them use this extra time wisely. Physical education helps a student develop good social and physical attributes needed to live in today's world.

The Girls' P. E. Department combined rhythmical activities, team and individual sports into this year's program. Such activities as hockey, archery, tinikling and co-ed square dancing were presented.

The boys strove to meet the high standards set by the P. E. Department. The agenda included such strenuous sports as football, basketball and baseball. As a result, the Boys' P. E. Department has turned out many fine athletes.

Foreign Language Department

Bonjour, buenos dias, guten tag and hello all mean the same thing in any language. Such conversation is the result of highly developed verbal skills! The teachers in the Foreign Language Department supplemented this learning with extensive classwork, using audio-visual equipment, particularly tapes and records. The major objective of the Department is to help students become fluent in a foreign language and to help them appreciate the cultural heritages of other countries around the world.

The Arts

Students enjoy expressing themselves through art. The Art Department offers a variety of courses to give students a better understanding of and feeling for art.

The Industrial Arts Department teaches all aspects of industry from tools to products. Students design and construct their own products.

The Music Department includes beginning and concert bands and choruses and a string program. The Department made its formal debut in December with two seasonal concerts.

Teachers Teach Skills

Students enjoy learning fundamental skills. The Special Education Department has focused primarily upon developing students' basic skills. Particular em phasis has been placed on reading skills.

The main aim of Business Education is to teach its students the fundamentals of business, including typing and stenography.

The Home Economics Department offered cooking and sewing to seventh and eighth graders. In addition, ninth and tenth graders were offered special units in Personal Development and Child Care.

STUDENTS

We're Number One!

The Sophomores, unwilling to relinquish their positions as top men at Hoover, Julius West and Cabin John, came to Wootton with a little apprehension. However their fears proved unfounded as they proved themselves to be the leaders of the school.

Having adjusted to the newness of the school, they are developing their own ideas about how the school should be run and working to make their ideas a part of school policy. As individuals they are learning to set up their own standards to function by.

In late September, organized by Miss Griffin and Mr. Smetanick, the Tenth Grade Class Council was formed and began organizing class activities. Among those planned are bake sales, dances, gym nights, charitable activities including taking retarded children to the zoo and having an Easter Egg roll, a class trip, a car wash, a beach party and a prom. The "leaders" of Wootton are busy having fun themsleves as well as helping other people who are less fortunate.

Freshmen Try Out New And Different Ideas

Mary Robertson listens carefully to Spanish dialogue.

The ninth graders are our "growing people." An enthusiastic group, they are striving to become individuals and to assert their independence. Too old to be mischievous and too young to have savoir faire, they are searching people . . . searching to understand themselves and other people . . . seeking to assert the individual they find and to achieve a growing level of independence. They are questioners . . . challengers . . . seekers of answers. They are constantly trying out new and different ideas.

As a class the ninth graders are trying to establish themselves for the next four years at Wootton. They are planning fund-raising activities that center around fun. These include selling candy, several dances, a spring picnic, a school trip and a winter spirit week to start off the New Year.

Glowing People

Tender. Rambunctious. Devilish. You guessed it — eighth graders! Wootton's "glowing people." The eighth graders are warming up to five years of study and fun at Wootton. They are an alert, intelligent and fun-loving group destined to be strong leaders in the years ahead.

The activities they've planned for this year reflect their sunny personality. These include a sock hop, two other dances, a skating party, a spring hay ride, candy sales and car washes. They plan on raising money and having fun at the same time. This spirited class contributes much to school spirit and Patriot Power.

Allen Head takes advantage of the temptingly delicious fare of the cafeteria.

Eighth graders wait for action at the pep rally.

The Littlest Patriots

"Hey, where's my lunch?" wonders Sybil Blair.

The seventh graders are our "little people." They add spontaneity and hilarity to Wootton. Constantly on the go, during class as well as outside class, they liven up the whole tempo of the school.

As a class the seventh graders are working to unify their class and to raise money through various projects. Fund-raising projects that are planned include bake sales, showing a movie, dances, a rummage sale and a car wash. Wootton salutes its seventh graders for their energy. We will miss our "little people" next year when they leave for Robert Frost Junior High School as we expand into a full-fledged high school.

ORGANIZATIONS

S.G.A. Forms Committees

With the opening of a new school, Wootton students were given the responsibility of establishing percedents that would be followed and revised in the years to come. This task was to be done primarily by the newly formed Student Government Association. There was a constitution to write, a grievance board to institute, a student handbook and directory to publish and an honor roll system to form. Working together with the newly formed committees the officers stroved to represent and serve Wootton students in their fullest capacity. While planning, their real goal was to achieve rapport among the student body, faculty and community.

Opening their season with a loss to Gaithersburg, the fighting Patriots nevertheless ended their season on a high note by beating the undeafeated Sherwood Warriors 24-14.

Plagued with problems from the start, such as the locker rooms not being open, no uniforms and incomplete equipment, the football team was nevertheless able to accumulate a 3 and 5 record.

Victories over Paint Branch and Kennedy and throwing a surprising victory to Sherwood helped to compensate for some disappointing defeats, especially by the Magruder Colonels.

With the talent, ability, ambition, and enthusiasm shown this year, the Patriots should have a victorious season in the fall of 71.

Varsity Basketball Team Fulfills Expectations

John Cassill out jumps a Churchill defender and tips the ball to nearby Doug Schmidt.

Although they encountered a very disappointing season win-loss-wise, the basketball team was able to benefit from their mistakes.

Being a first year team in a new school posed many problems for the Patriots. A lack of experience in working together as a team and in ball handling was the main cause of Wootton's troubles. However, in the second half of the season, led by co-captains John Cassill and Eric Neva, who were high scorers and rebounders, there was a marked improvement in the overall ability of the team. Boasting a good offense, more aggressiveness, and a more unified team spirit, the Patriots went on to beat Charlotte Hall two times and to have a near upset against the veteran Churchill Bulldogs with a 51-53 loss.

Considering the topnotch teams Wootton played, such as Poolesville, Damascus and Glenelg, the Patriots picked up much experience and expanded upon their ability, which should help greatly in the '71-'72 season.

And next year . . . . . REVENGE!

Trials And Tribulations Mark 1971 Season

The ninth grade basketball team suffered a disappointing season, winning only two games out of a total of ten games played. Led by Captain Fred Genau (guard) and forward Rall Del Muro, the team's high scorers, along with high rebounder center Dan Thomasch, the Patriots were able to roll over Damascus twice for two easy victories. However, the team wasn't as fortunate in other games, especially against our arch rival the Magruder Colonels.

Due to lack of experience and knowledge in ball handling, together with the loss of center Holman Head and little school support, the team had a very frustrating season.

Despite these pitfalls, however, experience and knowledge were gained, and some fine ball players were developed and should be welcome additions to next year's team.

Division With A 4-Win, 2-Loss League Record!

The eighth grade basketball team compiled a 4-win, 5-loss overall record with a 4-win, 2-loss league record, to enable the "little" Patriots to present Wootton with the best boys' basketball team record for the '70-'71 season and to place second in their division.

Co-captains David Schoenly and David Stevenson led the team as high scorers. Schoenly, who played only the first four games due to injury, set the boys' high score record with 32 points. High rebounders of the season were David Schoenly and Rick Oidtman.

The team was able to beat the Poolesville Indians twice and the Damascus Hornets twice, but did not fare well against Magruder and especially Our Lady of Mercy.

But the boys profited from their mistakes, learning both what to do as well as what not to do, and should be invaluable on next year's teams.

Fearless Faculty Should Try Weight Watchers

On a bright, sunny day at the end of February, Wootton's Fearless Faculty descended upon the Vicious Varsity to hand them a humiliating defeat 65-53.

The teachers played a fair game, being hampered only by their protruding bellies and super hairy legs. Also, extra help from the unbiased (?) refs added to the game.

The enthusiastic, if not glamorous, faculty cheerleaders encouraged their aging, paunchy team with various renditions of cheers to the accompaniment of water bottles, various instruments and unique uniforms especially designed to show off the cheerleaders' beautiful bods . . . providing a colorful diversity for players and spectators alike.

Girls Engage In A Wide Variety Of Sports

The girls on Wootton's honor teams have proved, that to participate in sports and play them successfully, you DON'T have to be a muscle-bound brute.

The field hockey team had a 1-1-1 record for the year, gracefully playing a strenuous sport.

The girls on the gymnastics team, working on floor exercises, balance beam, uneven parallel bars and vaulting horse, put on several exhibitions.

The girls' basketball team was the bright spot of all Wootton's teams. Led by "Pistol" Page Croyder the girls accumulated 6 wins and no losses for an undefeated season. "Pistol" Page set the school record for the most points by collecting 36 points in one game.

Carl - You're one of the many people I don't really know but would like to. Have a fun summer and good luck next year.
Cindy THOMPSON

Carl - You supercilious dude, you! You're the horny one, not me! Besides that, you're so conceited about your tan and your hair and everything else. Oh, well, you'll do. But watch the way you talk to me, you don't know your own strength so hand.
Lots of Luck + Love,
Alice FITZGERALD

Carl,

I'm going to completely, utterly destroy this page by writing on it. Well, here goes with the gushy. You're nice. I like ya. You tan beautifully. Have a magnificent smile. Not to mention a personality (then again I say this about my dog - she's really beautiful ya should see her) Like ya alot,

P.S. Had thats the truth (!)

Dear Mr. Kenrick,

It was nice hearing from you. I was keen on drama (I guess) & was keen on the Drama (corph.)! Maybe next year I'll be on stage instead of playing in the orchestra. Thanks for asking me along. I'll see you next year.
